Dear Friends,

With today's celebration of Pentecost, we end the Easter Season, but Pentecost is more about beginnings than endings! The Church is a people chosen by God, filled with the Holy Spirit. Without the Holy Spirit, no Church — no more than there is life without breath.

The gift of the Spirit is dynamic and works at two levels: we are enriched with the gifts of the Holy Spirit as individuals. But those same gifts work much more powerfully in the community of faith. Look how, in today's second reading, St. Paul insists on our sharing gifts in community; the Spirit works within each of us to benefit all of us; the Spirit of God is given for the common good. So many gifts for so many of us, needing so many ministries in the one body that is Christ.

Still, says St. Paul, there is one Spirit and one Lord. And so much work that God does through us. That's what it means to be the Body of Christ, to be Church. It's one massive collective effort — all of us and the one Spirit — when we do it right.

Often we Catholics are questioned, "Why do you use repetitive prayer when praying the rosary?" Here is a great analogy to help better explain this.

If you were on the sinking Titanic, do you think the captain of the ship would send out only one S.O.S. (Save Our Ship)?

When praying the rosary to the Blessed Mother, this is our S.O.S. (Help Save Our Souls)!

The Greatest Pentecost

"All were filled with the Holy Spirit." —Acts 2:4
Today is Pentecost. It is not merely a reminder of a past event, but a continuation of the Spirit renewing the face of the earth (Ps 104:30). Today's Pentecost will not be a shadow of the first Pentecost, rather the first Pentecost is a shadow of today's Pentecost. God's grace is abounding all the more (see Rm 5:20). The Spirit is not diminishing His work in our world, but increasing it. It will not be only thousands who come to Jesus today (see Acts 2:41), but millions. The waters of the Spirit become deeper as they flow further around the world and into history (see Ez 47:5). Totally surrender your life to Jesus. Renounce Satan and all His works. Repent of sin. Ask for the Spirit. Ask Spirit-filled believers to lay hands on you. Receive the Spirit. As you receive prayers for the Spirit, express your love for the Lord by praising Him in your native language and in other languages. Go out and tell others about your love for Jesus. Pentecost begins by taking little steps of repentance, prayer, praise, and evangelization. If you obey the Lord, you won't stifle the Spirit (see 1 Thes 5:19). Pentecost is now. The greatest Pentecost is now. Come, Holy Spirit! Reflection from Presentation Ministries
